

What Women Want sponsors make it possible for 100 percent of ticket and auction proceeds to benefit our program which supports Medina County's Elderly and Disabled Residents who need help remaining independent in their own homes.

Your support will also advance our programs that focus on wellness and ensure that our residents have the greatest chance for living life at the highest potential.

What Women Want is a fun girls night out event that attracts an audience comprised of corporate executives, philanthropists, community leaders, friends, and all who love a fun time! A commitment to sponsor this event provides excellent exposure and benefits, as well as the confidence that you have improved the lives of many older adults.
